

Delhi Public School, Hyderabad

REPORT ON INTER HOUSE ELOCUTION COMPETITION STD VII

Date: 16th June, 2016

“You can speak well if your tongue can deliver the message of your heart.” -
John Ford

An Inter House Elocution Competition for class VII was held on 16th June, 2016 in the school.

The objective of the competition was to provide a wide platform for the young minds to develop confidence and showcase their presentation skills

The competition was conducted in three rounds, first at the class level where all students participated, and then a second round with selected participants from each section and ultimately the final round sixteen participants in total took part. The judges for the competition were Ms. Simran Khanna and Ms. Nidhi Chaturvedi.

second round with selected participants from each section and ultimately the final round sixteen participants in total took part. competition were Ms. Simran Khanna

The topics for the final round were:

- ❖ Do not judge a book by its cover
- ❖ Climate change.. a major concern
- ❖ When the going gets tough, the tough get going

Students were judged on the criteria of content, diction, clarity and expression. The time slot given to each student was two minutes.

The participants delivered their speeches with great confidence and poise. The judges found it quite difficult to select the best three students from all the 16 enthusiastic participants. The contest ended on a positive note with the judges congratulating all winners and participants for their efforts and enthusiasm.

RESULT:

S.NO	CLASS/SEC	POSITION	STUDENT'S NAME	HOUSE
1	VII D	I	ARSHIT NIMIT MANKODI	EMERALD
2	VII E	II	MANYA MADHUR	SAPPHIRE
3	VII A	III	TEJASVI N.	RUBY